PLAN OF ORGANIZATION OF THE CONSERVATIVE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

STATE ORGANIZATION.

A State Committee, to consist of a chairman and thirty members—six of whom shall reside in Raleigh and three in each judicial district—to be appointed by the State Convention.

The committee shall have power to maintain its organization by filling vacancies, &c., and shall take charge of all matters relating to organization, registrations, &c., and a proper canvass of the State.

DISTRICT ORGANIZATION.

The members of the State Committee in each judicial district shall constitute a district Committee for their respective districts and shall appoint a Chairman, and shall take charge of all matters relating to county organization, &c., in their respective districts; and shall report all matters relating thereto, to the Chairman of the State Committee.

COUNTY ORGANIZATION.

It is recommended that each County, by popular meetings or through the medium of existing organization, appoint a County Committee, to consist of at least two persons from each Captain's District within its limits.

The County Committee shall take charge of all matters of registration, local organization, &c., within the County, and is requested to make monthly reports to the Chairman of the District Committee, and when necessary, to inform him of such local matters as may require the attention of the District Committee.

It is further recommended that each County Committee cause to be enrolled the names of all the registered voters of their county, who are willing to act and vote with this organization—no man to be thus enrolled without his express consent; and, also, that they cause to be enrolled on a separate list the names of all those who are entitled to register, but who have not done so, and that they use every exertion to secure their registration and active co-operation.

PLATFORM.

The Conservative people of North Carolina, having by their delegates assembled in Convention at Raleigh, on the 5th of February, 1868, to consider the present anomalous condition of the State, and of the country, and to consult together upon the grievances which now afflict and threaten them, and the course of action proper to be adopted in the trying circumstances which surround them, do resolve and declare

1. Our unalterable devotion to the principles of Constitutional liberty, and our fealty to the government of the United States, as set forth in the Federal Constitution. That we sincerely and in good faith accept the legitimate and legal results of the late war, and do hereby reiterate our oft repeated declaration, that we most heartily desire peace and concord with our sister States, and with the entire people of the United States.

2. Resolved, That regarding the Constitution of the United States as the source of all power in the administration of the government, and that the powers of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial department are equal and co-ordinate, as defined by that instrument, we do respectfully and solemnly protest against the enforcement upon our people, of the Reconstruction Acts, and policy of Congress, as unconstitutional, unwise and destructive to society, and violative of that great principle of American politics, that each State shall have the exclusive control of its own internal offices.

3. Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Convention that the great and all absorbing issue, now soon to be presented to the people of the State, is negro suffrage and negro equality, if not supremacy, and whether hereafter in North Carolina and the South, the white man is to be placed politically and, as a consequence, socially, upon a footing of equality with the negro, and, in many localities, subject to his government as a superior. That we are utterly opposed to such change in our government and in our social relations, and that we do hereby earnestly recommend to the people of the State to manfully meet the issue now attempted to be forced upon them, and to use every proper measure within their power to avert the impending mischief.

4. Resolved, That while we are unalterably opposed to political and social equality with the black race, we yet have no unjust prejudicies against that race, that we are determined, by just laws, to protect them fully in all their civil rights, and to confer upon them all privileges which can be done consistently with the safety and welfare of both races.

5. Resolved, That the distressed and impoverished condition of our people earnestly demands the speediest and wisest measures of relief that the Legislature can devise.

6. Resolved, That this Convention recognizes, with feelings of gratitude, the heroic and patriotic efforts of the President of the United States, to restore the Union and harmony and good will among the American people.

7. Resolved, That this Convention regards the Supreme Court of the United States as the legitimate expounder in the last resort of the Constitution—and believe that its rights and powers, in that respect, should be preserved intact as established by law in the earlier and better days of the republic, and that any serious impairment thereof, by legislation or otherwise, will be destructive to the best interests of the country, and dangerous to the liberties of the people.

8. Resolved, That despairing of any restoration of the Southern States under the conduct of that organization which now controls the proceedings of Congress, waiving all former party feeling and prejudice, this Convention does most unhesitatingly recommend and invite the hearty co-operation of all the good people of North Carolina with the Democrats, and Conservative men of the North and West, who are now nobly struggling for the maintenance of the Constitution of the United States, and the restoration of the Southern States to their rights in the Union, on the solid foundation of harmony and peace.

9. Resolved, That this Convention elect four delegates and four alternates for the State at large, to represent the conservative people of North Carolina in the next Democratic National Convention, and that it recommend to the conservative people of the several Congressional Districts, to appoint delegates at an early day to represent them in said Convention.

10. Resolved, That when an election shall be ordered for the ratification of a new State Constitution, the Executive Committee for the State, hereafter to be appointed by this Convention, be instructed, if the time shall be sufficient to call a Convention of the Conservative people of the State, to put in nomination candidates for the various State offices whose election shall then be ordered, and if there shall not be sufficient time to call said Convention, to put in nomination sound Conservative men for said office.

The North Carolinian.

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land."

WM. A. HEARNE, JNO. W. DUNHAM,
EDITORS.

Raleigh, Wednesday, February 26, 1868.

THE House of Representatives adopted a resolution, on Monday, impeaching the President for high crimes and misdemeanors in office; appointed a committee to inform the Senate of its action, and another to prepare the charges upon which Mr. Johnson is to be brought to trial. Any information as to the manner in which the trial is to be conducted, and as to the probable time of its commencement will, we presume, be of interest to our readers.

The trial will be conducted by the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment. Before entering thereupon, the Senators are required to take an oath or affirmation that they "will well and truly try and true deliverance make," &c. The constitution requires, when the President is tried, that the Chief Justice shall preside. The prosecution is conducted by managers appointed by the House of Representatives, and the President is allowed to make his own selection of counsel. The number of counsel, on either side, depends upon the pleasure of the respective parties to the trial. It is said that Mr. Johnson has engaged the services of Attorney General Stanbery, Charles O'Conor, of New York, and the Hon. Jeremiah Black, of Pennsylvania. These gentlemen are three of the most eminent members of the American bar, and under their conduct his case will be managed with consummate skill and ability. Whatever the Senate may decide, the President will be vindicated before the people. The House of Representatives has not yet announced its managers, if, indeed, they have been chosen.

Mr. Johnson is the first executive against whom articles of impeachment have been formally preferred. If convicted, the punishment provided by the Constitution, extends only "to removal from office and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States." In order to conviction, two-thirds of the members of the Senate present must concur therein.

Mr. Chase, who will preside at the trial, has already work sufficient to engage his entire attention until the adjournment of the Supreme Court, which will probably not occur until about the first of May proximo. As he is prominently mentioned in connection with the Radical nomination for the Presidency, and may become the legally elected successor of Mr. Johnson, it is scarcely possible that he will quit the business pertaining to his office to engage with indecent haste, in this trial. The trial may, therefore, be protracted until midsummer, or the Senate may be forced to abandon the trial by a decision adverse to the constitutionality of the tenure-of-office bill.

There are two cases, now in court, by which this question can be brought before the Supreme Court: the criminal proceedings against Gen. Thomas, based upon the affidavit of Mr. Stanton and set for hearing before Judge Carter, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to-day; and the quo warranto issued by the President's direction against Mr. Stanton. If in the case of General Thomas, the District Court shall decide the tenure-of-office act constitutional, it will be immediately carried to the Supreme Court of the United States by appeal, in which court, it is confidently believed, an adverse decision will be made. Should this occur, the grounds upon which the President has been impeached will prove untenable and the trial by the Senate must be abandoned.

THE Republicans of the county of Lincoln met in Convention, at Lincolnton, on the 15th instant. Among the resolutions adopted, we find the following, distinguished for its elegance, liberality and consistence with the professions of the party of "progress and great moral ideas:"

Resolved, That as our Divine Redeemer hath said, "go ye therefore and teach all nations," it shall be our firm, determined plan to secure education to every subject of the United States and of this our beloved State, although Pope, Devil and Democrat cry down educating the poor to read the Bible.

The italics are ours. The hidden purposes of these Radical scallawags will crop out occasionally, and this is a specimen. Should we be reconstructed politically as they desire, these fanatics will then enter upon the work of reconstructing our consciences, and we shall be commanded to worship God, according to the dictates of their consciences, not of our own. We are not Catholics, nor are we subjects of the United States, or of the State of North Carolina. As citizens of both, we invite the attention of our Catholic fellow-citizens to this insult and to the sinister designs of this party.

The order in which the resolution enumerates the so-called opponents of the education which these scholars and patriots favor, is somewhat singular. First, the Pope, of whom they have heard, but know nothing; secondly, the Devil, still more dreadful, but with whose doings they are more familiar, inasmuch as they are really servants of his, but deny the fact and abuse their master in order to delude the ignorant—a common stratagem in Radical politics; and, lastly, the Democrats, most dreadful of all, whom they really and justly fear, since they know that a Democratic triumph would destroy that which gives strength and unity to their ranks—the power to plunder the people's treasury.

WE invite attention to the proceedings of the Convention, for Monday evening and yesterday. They were highly important. We are compelled to defer comment by a want of space.

THE HAPPY FAMILY,

—OR—

THE CAPITOL MONKEY SHOW!

(BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER UNDER THE TABLE.)

[The reader is particularly requested to remember the fact that no Reporter for this paper is allowed on the floor, in the halls or in the galleries of the Convention, and consequently our reports are made from under the table, behind the scenes, or as may be otherwise ordered and convenient.]

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY.

MONDAY EVENING, Feb. 24.

The suffrage question was resumed.

Mr. Abbott, of New Hampshire, withdrew his amendment in order to get a direct vote on the substitute offered by Jones, of Washington.

On this vote Capt. Durham demanded the ayes and nays.

The call was sustained, and Heaton, of Ohio, said before a final vote was taken, he would call for a division, as there was much difference of opinion in the premises, and he was satisfied that in a few months it would be deemed an odious test oath.

Besides, he thought it was superfluous, for swearing to support the two constitutions after the State is restored, carries with it the sentiment of civil and political equality.

He thought it was unwise to imperil the constitution by "putting on so much deck load." His colored friends thought that an oath to support the two constitutions would be quite sufficient.

Hood, Egyptian, from the west coast of Africa, hoped the gentleman from Ohio did not intend to represent the colored people as favoring the substitute.

Heaton—No, sir—I have found the colored people satisfied with a liberty-breathing constitution, and, if after the black night of slavery they were satisfied, white folks ought certainly to be contented.

Mr. Rich said that test-oaths were opposed to the genius of Republican institutions, and the incorporation of such an infamous feature in the constitution would surely defeat it.

Abbott, of New Hampshire, declared his intention of calling every man to order, who said this or that thing would defeat the constitution.

Jones, the Knight of the Sorrowful Figure, made a Quixotic harangue on the subject. Like his renowned prototype of La Mancha, or rather like a Malay run amuck, he tilted furiously against the giants and wind mills of the horrid rebellion. He wanted to disfranchise every North Carolinian who would not swallow his infamous substitute.

Mr. Rodman was astonished and mortified to believe that there was a North Carolinian who could cherish such fiendish vindictiveness towards his countrymen. He (Mr. R.) could not go home with the stigma on his character of voting in the Convention for a provision that would drive gentlemen from the ballot box. He pronounced these disfranchising laws as ex post facto, because, said he, it proposed punishment for an act done before its passage, not criminal at the time of its commission, or else because it proposed a different punishment from that in existence when the act was done. It was not Republican in principle, and he would be a pretty man to go before his constituents—true Republicans, black and white, and tell them that he was afraid to allow all the elective franchise, lest his election in future contests might thereby be endangered. If they put such odious and proscriptive features in the constitution, they would find precious few men, white or black, who would stand up and vote for it. He simply desired the Convention to follow out the plan marked by Congress. He could take the proposed oath, but was not in favor of putting in the constitution any clause that could be shot at by Democratic sharpshooters like Capt. Plato Durham and the North Carolinian.

The following is the infamous oath of the more infamous Jones, of Washington:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and maintain the Constitution and laws of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of North Carolina, not inconsistent thereunto; that I will never countenance or aid in the secession of this State from the United States; that I will accept the political and civil equality of all men, so help me God."

Abbot, New Hampshire shaker, said if the people could not take this wholesome oath, why they could stay away,—that's all. He was surprised to hear Mr. Rodman speak of the proposition as ex post facto, for he (obtuse Abbott) "couldn't see it in those lamps." He would vote for the proposition before the house, and if that was voted down, he would vote for another of a like nature. He was proud to say that he represented a black [I thank thee, Quaker, for the word,] constituency, and he wasn't afraid "to go home" and meet them. [A man who associates with niggers, is rarely afraid to face them.] It was the duty of the Constitution to protect the cuticle of government from the poisoned arrows of hatred and treason. [The "gineral" oft wanders in Fancy's mazes, wherefore this hazy metaphor."]

Heaton, of Ohio, proposed the following amendment to Jones' oath:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and maintain the Constitution and laws of the United States, and the Constitution and laws of North Carolina, not inconsistent therewith, so help me God."

The Tourgee favored the oath of Jones, and said that Mr. Rodman was wrong in his opinion that it was an ex post facto, or retrospective law.

Mr. Read, of Warren, said that if the delegates disfranchised a single citizen of North Carolina, they would regret it in less than twelve months.

Mr. King, of Lenoir, said he knew something about the sentiments of the people in regard to this matter. He was a native North Carolinian, and knew that the people of the State would regard this test-oath as unnecessary, and would not sustain those who voted for them.

Johnny McDonald, of Chatham, said there was'nt a white or black man in his county who wanted any body disfranchised. He also knew that test-oaths in the constitution would defeat it. It had enough weight to carry without that odious feature. He said his was a forgiving nature, and thanked God that he could forgive 'rebs" seventy times seven.

Harris, nigger, of Wake, said he was in favor of Mr. Heaton's proposition. He was sure the colored people wanted nothing more, and in spite of all the rebels and devils out of Pandemonium, they would accept nothing less.

Pool, of Pasquotank, was opposed to test-oaths. He thought that the discussion had proceeded far enough; he would therefore call the previous question, but consented to allow a few remarks from Mr. Nicholson before the previous question.

Mr. Nicholson was opposed to the proposed oath, and said if a man was bound by his conscientious scruples to do right, he couldn't see how an oath could take hold of him.

Capt. Durham then arose to address the Convention.

He was astounded and shocked at the sentiments expressed by some of the delegates. It was patent to every body that the whole was a partisan trick to advance the interests of the Republican-Nigger party. Was there ever any such precedent as this infamous, iniquitous and infernal test oath heard of? In so many words, the Radical members propose to swear men—white men, gentlemen—to support their party. The people of Ohio were admitted to be loyal, but did the constitution or laws of that Statte enforce any such oath upon its citizens?

Mr. D. said he would brand this proposition as an infamous political trick—a petty device of craven, malicious cowardice.

The chair hoped the delegate from Cleaveland would use language a little more courteous.

Ashley, of Buzzard's Bay, objected to Capt. Durham's proceeding any further, and raised a point of order, but was not sustained by the chair.

Capt. Durham said that while the Conservative members were in the hall, though few, they had the intelligence to understand their rights and the spirit to maintain them. He had been denounced by Mr. Ashley, on yesterday, as disloyal. He was loyal, and any man who said to the contrary, lied deliberately, understandingly, maliciously! But he was not loyal to Thad. Stevens, Charles Sumner, Ben. Butler and men of that ilk, but loyal to the Constitution. The proposed oath was nothing more nor less than a desire to force the respectable people of North Carolina to support that which their souls abhorred. Because he opposed negro suffrage, was that to be called disloyalty? If so, how about the people of Republican Ohio, who voted down negro suffrage by 50,000 majority? Were they disloyal?

Capt. Durham was proceeding with his searching, scathing, withering remarks, when the Reverend(!) May, the seducer of a young girl of his congregation, raised a point of order.

Capt. Durham said that since he was to be interrupted so often, and not permitted to go on with his speech, he would take his seat.

Ashley, of Buzzard's Bay, bounced up and said that the remarks of Capt. Durham were slanderous.

Capt. Durham—You're a liar, sir!

Ashley said that great temper had been exhibited by the delegate from Cleaveland; that he had called him (Ashley) a liar, &c., but he passed such language by as the idle winds which he regarded not. [The old hypocrite gets all his virtues from his necessities.]

The Tourgee, the mangy scalawag from—God only knows where—here announced the impeachment of the President by Congress; whereupon there was much cavorting among the varmints. Ashley rolled his saintly eyes upwards and seemed as if engaged in meditating upon the amount of the salary attached to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction; Jones' head went back at an angle of 59 degrees; the pious Welker groaned out his satisfaction, and the Tourgee grinned with the delight of a well-fed ape.

Mr. Pool, having sufficiently recovered from the delicious tremor produced by the telegram, rose with the grace and dignity, which always distinguish his performances, drew his magnificent form to its full height and demaaded in sonorous tones the pre-vi-ous question, which was sustained.

The vote was taken on Mr. Heaton's amendment and resulted as follows: yeas, 25; nays 62.

AYES—Messrs. Andrews, Aydlott, Benbow, Bryan, Cherry, Cox. Forkner, George, Gully, Harris, of Wake, Hayes, of Halifax, Heaton, Highsmith, Hobbs, Hood, Legg, Mayo, McDonald, of Moore, Petree, Pierson, Robbins, Rodman, Sweet, Trogden, Williamson.

NOES—Messrs. Abbott, Ashley, Baker, Blume, Bradley, Carey, Carter, Candler, Dickey, Dowd, Duckworth, Ellis, Eppes, Etheridge, Fisher, French, of Bladen, French, of Chowan, Fullings, Galloway, Glover, Graham, of Montgomery, Gunter, Harris, of Franklin, Hodnett, Hoffler, Hollowell, Hyman, Jones, of Caldwell, Jones, of Washington, King, of Lenior, Kinney, Laflin, Lee, Lennon, Logan, Mann, Marler, McCubbins, Merritt, McDonald, of Chatham, Moore, Morton, Murphy, Nicholson, Parker, Parks, Pool, Ragland, Read, Renfrow, Rhodes, Rich, Rose, Smith, Stilwell, Taylor, Teague, Tourgee, Tuckr, Turner, Watts, Welker.

The question then recurred upon Mr. Jones' amendment, which was lost by a vote of 39 yeas to 41 nays.

AYES—Messrs. Abbott, Ashley, Blume, Carter, Candler, Chillson, Dickey, Duckworth, Eppes, Fisher, French, of Bladen, Fullings, Galloway, Glover, Graham, of Montgomery, Hayes, of Robeson, Hayes, of Halifax. Jones, of Washington, Kinney, Lee, Logan, Mann, Moore, Morton, Murphy, Parks, Ragland, Renfrow, Rhodes, Robbins, Rose, Smith, Stilwell, Teague, Tourgee, Tucker, Turner, Welker, Williamson.

NOES—Messrs. Andrews, Aydlott, Baker, Benbow, Bradley, Bryan, Carey, Cherry, Cox, Daniel, Dowd, Ellis, Etheridge, Forkner, French, of Chowan, George, Gully, Gunter, Harris, of Wake, Hay, Heaton, Highsmith, Hobbs, Hodnett, Hoffler, Hollowell, Hood, Hyman, Jones, of Caldwell, King, of Lenoir, Legg, Lennon, Long, Marler, McCubbins, Merritt, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, Nance, Nicholson, Parker, Pierson, Pool, Ray, Read, Rich, Rodman; Stilly, Sweet, Taylor, Watts.

The question then recurred upon the second section of the majority report. The section was adopted.

On motion of the Tourgee, the "Pilgrim" Ashley's resolution allowing the employees of the Convention $2 per day was taken up.

The "Pilgrim" moved to amend by striking out "employees' and inserting "three servitors." Adopted.

The resolution then passed.

Mr. Abbott asked leave of absence for that "dear little ladies' man, Pool, of Pasquotank, for one week. Granted.

The excitement produced by Mr. Durham's bomb-shell and the Washington telegram was so great that it was with the greatest difficulty that Kangaroo Kowles could get his bybrids into their cages. The people residing in the vicinity of the Capitol were greatly disturbed by the growling of the varmints during the night.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY.

TUESDAY, Feb. 26.

Father Cowles appeared with tottering steps, and looking with a benignant smile upon his "children," called them from their gambols to labor at 10.

The North Carolinian was read as usual.

MEMORIALS, &C.

Manager Cowles had read a memorial from the 2nd Baptist church of the city, asking aid for the purchase of the curch lot.

Mr. Durham asked leave to have his name recorded in the negative on the amendment offered by Mr. Jones. Granted.

A similar privilege was granted Mr. Holt.

ORDINANCES, &C.

The following ordinances, &c., were offered:

By the Tourgee; An ordinance to relieve certain sheriffs. Lies over.

Harris, (nigger) of Wake, moved that when the Kangaroos were dismissed to-day, they be not called together again until 11 o'clock to-morrow. The motion prevailed.

Mr. Abbott was moved by the spirit to scold the President, because he would not entertain any motion he made—preceding this complaint. The Shaker-General had made several motions in regard to the immigration report. He had been interrupted by his brothers and his paternal "parient" in the Chair had sternly decided him out of order, or odor?

The Tourgee moved to suspend the rules.—Motion carried.

The Tourgee was preparing to make a speech, when his brother Harris raised a "pint" of order, that he must either bow to the decision of the chair, or appeal therefrom to the house.

The Tourgee very unfiliably refused to "bow" and appealed. The house sustained the chair—good children. Naughty Shaker! give him catnip, daddy.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The following reports were submitteed:

By the Sweet delegate from Craven, a report from the Committee on Rules, proposing a substitute for rule No. 43. Report accepted and substitute adopted.

By Mr. Rodman: A report from the Judiciary Committee in regard to giving the election of Judges to the people, and fixing the number of same.

Pending the consideration of this subject the hour arrived for the

SPECIAL ORDER.

The special order was the majority report on suffrage.

Mr. Abbott offered an amendment to the first article.

The Tourgee, a substitute for the whole article.

Both decided out of order, as the house adjourned last night pending the calling of the ayes and noes. Mr. Cowles said the vote must be taken. It resulted as follows:

AYES—Messrs. Abbott, Andrews, Ashley, Aydlott, Baker, Benbow, Blume, Bradley, Bryan, Carey, Carter, Cherry, Chillson, Colgrove, Daniel, Dowd, Duckworth, Eppes, Forkner, Franklin, French, of Chowan, Fullings, Galloway, George, Glover, Gunter, Harris, of Wake, Hay, Hayes, of Robeson, Hayes, of Halifax, Heaton, Highsmith, Hobbs, Hoffler, Hollowell, Hood, Hyman, Ing, Jones, of Caldwell, Jones, of Washington, King, of Lincoln, King, of Lenoir, Kinney, Lee, Legg, Long, Mann, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, Morton, Mullican, Murphy, Nance, Newsom, Nicholson, Patrick, Parker, Parks, Petree, Peterson, Pierson, Read, Renfrow, Rich, Robbins, Rodman, Smith, Stilly, Stillwell, Sweet, Taylor, Tucker, Turner, Watts, Williams, of Wake, Williamson.

NOES—Messrs. Candler, Cox, Dickey, Durham, Etheridge, Fisher, French, of Bladen, Garland, Graham, of Montgomery, Harris, of Franklin, Holt, Lennon, Logan, May, Mayo, Marler, McCubbins, Merritt, Moore, Ray, Rose, Sanderlin, Teague, Tourgee, Trogden, Welker, Williams, of Sampson.

Mr. Rodman moved to postpone the suffrage question and take up the report of the committee on the judiciary, which was read.

Section 1 of the report provides for the abolishment of the distinctions between actions in law and suits in equity.

Messrs. Rodman, Pool and Jones, of Washington, opposed the change and also the elective system, but made the report in deference to the expressed wish of the Convention.

The report creates one Chief Justice and four Associate Justices, and provides for twelve judicial districts.

The first section having been read, Mr. Romand moved its adoption.

Mr. Durham demanded the ayes and noes, saying that the change proposed was very important and should not be hastily acted on.

Mr. Heaton was in favor of having the ayes and noes called, but desired the report to be printed, that delegates might calmly consider it. There were other portions of the report that could be acted on. He objected to haste, and wished time.

The ayes and noes were taken and resulted as follows:

AYES—Messrs. Abbott, Andrews, Ashley, Benbow, Blume, Bryan, Carey, Carter, Candler, Chillson, Colgrove, Cox, Dickey, Duckworth, Eppes, Fisher, Forkner, Franklin, French, of Bladen, Fullings, Galloway, Garland, George, Glover, Graham, of Montgomery, Gunter, Harris, of Franklin, Hay, Hayes, of Robeson, Hayes, of Haiifax, Heaton, Highsmith, Hobbs, Hodnett, Hoffler, Hood, Hyman, Ing, Kinney, Lee, Legg, Logan, Long, May, Mayo, McDonald, of Chatham, Morton, Mullican, Murphy, Nance, Patrick, Parks, Petree, Peterson, Pierson, Ragland, Ray, Renfrow, Rich, Robbins, Rodman, Smith, Stilly, Stillwell, Sweet, Taylor, Teague, Tourgee, Trogden, Tucker, Turner, Watts, Welker, Williams, of Wake, Williamson.

NOES—Messrs. Durham, Etheridge, George, Graham, of Orange, Hollowell, Holt, Jones, of Caldwell, King, of Lenoir, Kinney, Lennon, McCubbins, Merritt, Rhodes, Rose, Sanderlin, Williams, of Sampson.

Mr. Rodman desired to defer further consideration of the report, save section 8, which provided for the number of judges and the tenure of their offices.

The section was read. It creates one chief justice and two associate judges.

Mr. King, of Lenior, was opposed to a multiplicity of officers and favored Mr. Durham's motion.

Mr. Rodman was willing to leave it to the Convention.

Mr. Mullican opposed an increase in the number of judges. We had got along with three for a number of years and could continue to do so.

Mr. Durham said that this was another innovation, made for the benefit of party pets. The Supreme Court of North Carolina stood as high as any in the land, and every citizen of the State knew that the old number of officers was sufficient. He repeated that the change was proposed for the purpose of rewarding party pets.

The Tourgee hoped the amendment would be voted down and the report sustained.

[The more judgeships there are, in view of the scarcity of the material of which judges are made in the Radical party, the greater the Tourgee's chances of getting one, of course.]

Mr. McDonald, of Chatham, was opposed to any new offices. He would vote for Mr. Durham's amendment.

Mr. Kinney was, also, opposed to the increase. Some said that five heads were better to transact business than one, but he did not think so.—It would take five longer than three to decide.

Mr. Heaton was also opposed to the measure.

The ayes and noes were called and resulted as follows:

AYES—Messrs. Aydlott, Baker, Blume, Bradley, Bryan, Carey, Carter, Candler, Chillson, Colgrove, Cox, Daniel, Dickey, Dowd, Duckworth, Durham, Ellis, Eppes, Etheridge, Forkner, George, Glover, Graham, of Montgomery, Graham, of Orange, Gunter, Harris, of Franklin, Hay, Hayes, of Halifax, Heaton, Highsmith, Hobbs, Hodnett, Hoffler, Hollowell, Holt, Hyman, Ing, Jones, of Caldwell, Jones, of Washington, King, of Lincoln, King, of Lenoir, Kinney, Lee, Legg, Lennon, Long, May, Mayo, Marler, McCubbins, Merritt, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, Morton, Mullican, Nance, Newsom, Nicholson, Patrick, Parker, Petree, Peterson, Pierson, Ray, Read, Renfrow, Rhodes, Rose, Sanderlin, Smith, Stilly, Stillwell, Taylor, Teaguei Trogden, Tucker, Turner, Watts, Williams, of Sampson, Williams of Wake.

NOES—Messrs. Abbott, Andrews, Ashley, French, of Bladen, French, of Chowan, Fullings, Garland, Hayes, of Robeson, Mann, Murphy, Rich, Rodman, Sweet, Williamson.

The section was adopted as amended.

Section 12, creating the Judicial Districts, was read.

Mr. McDonald, of Chatham, moved to strike out "twelve" and insert "eight."

Mr. Rodman objected, and stated that such an increase had been determined upon before the war, but that event had prevented its adoption. The change instead of being an expense would really be a relief.

Mr. McDonald thought the creation of many offices at a time like this was inexpedient. He did not come to the convention for any such purpose. [You came to the Convention for the purpose of making money, Mack. Only this, and nothing more.]

Mr. Welker, although not acquainted with the law, thought that twelve judges would expedite business.

Mr. McDonald hoped that when the State got back into the Union, there would be no necessity for so much law. [There are certain laws, penal in their nature, to which we suspect Mack seriously objects.]

Mr. Abbott, having recovered from the "sulks," caused by his father's refusal to notice him, stated that he favored the report of the committee, and thought it would be the easiest and cheapest manner of obtaining justice.

Hood, nigger, was opposed to McDonald's amendment, and said that he supposed the gentleman had the same idea on this subject as on all others, and would spend ten dollars to save one. [Why, Mack, you ugly boy! Your colored "brudder" reproves you. Hush, you ass.]

Mr. McDonald rose to reply, but was called to order by several of his brothers, because he "had had his say" already. Mack took his seat remarking, "I've got the gentleman, and they want to cry me down by saying I'm out of order" [Well, young baboons will wail, Mack, and their daddy Cowles can't keep them from it.]

The Tourgee said the gentleman had the same idea in regard to relief that the lower order of animals [like himself] had in regard to artillery—he seemed to think that everything that glittered should have the stamp of payment on it. [Wit some where in the remark, but we can't see it.]

Mr. King, of Lenoir, thought the County Courts necessary to appoints overseers of roads and do county business. He said their abolishment was another innovation.

Mr. Heaton was called to the chair.

Mr. Cowles took the floor. He objected to the increase: first, on account of the increase of expense; second, because material for judges among the "loyal" men was not by any means too abundant. [Truth, Mr. Cowles.] He alluded to the difficulty that had occurred in filling Judge Fowle's place.

He moved to amend Mr. McDonald's amendment by striking out "eight" and inserting "ten" and in the latter clause to further amend by striking out "two weeks" and inserting "as may be provided by the General Assembly."

Galloway, nigger, said his race desired the county Courts abolished. Justice to his constituents, white and black, compelled him to favor it. The gentleman from Lenoir had alluded to bastardy. He (Galloway) came under that head and wished "to remind the delegate that when he alluded to that subject he touched the vital chords of every feeling in his body" [The old Pilgrim, Welker, Hood, May and Sam Watts burst into tears at this pathetic allusion. They were quieted by candy and nuts.] He wanted some provision by which illegitimate children could succeed to their father's property and desired the laws on bastardy made stringent.

Mr. Abbott hoped the bill would be passed allowing twelve Judges. He estimated that the county Courts of the State cost annually about $30,000, and by calculation showed that the system recommended was less expensive.

Mr. Heaton instituted a comparison between North Carolina and Ohio. In the latter State the population amounted to over 3,000,000, and the taxable property was valued at more than $900,000,000, but Ohio had only nine Judges to take cognizance of suits arising from its great business. He would vote for ten Judges and wished to go on record.

Harris, nigger, of Wake, favored the abolishment of the county Courts. He said every little difficulty between men, was brought up in it. Yes almost every fight between dogs, [Has Jeemes H. had a difficulty lately?]

He called for the previous question, which recurred on Mr. Cowles' amendment.

On motion, the queston was divided. The house refused to amend by the following vote:

AYES—Messrs. Andrews, Aydlott, Bradley, Colgrove, Cowles, Duckworth, Ellis, Etheridge, Forkner, Garland, George, Graham, of Orange, Gunter, Hay, Heaton, Hobbs, Hodnett, Hollowell, Holt, King of Lincoln, King of Lenoir, Kinney, Legg, Lennon, Long, May, Marler, McCubbins, Merritt, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, Mullican, Nicholson, Parker, Peterson, Ray, Read, Rhodes, Rose, Sanderlin, Stilly, Turner, Williams, of Sampson.

NOES—Messrs. Abbott, Ashley, Baker, Blume, Bryan, Carey, Carter, Candler, Cherry, Chillson, Cox, Daniel, Dickey, Dowd, Eppes, Fisher, Franklin, French, of Chowan, Fullings, Galloway, Glover, Graham, of Montgomery, Harris, of Wake, Hayes, of Robeson, Hayes, of Halifax, Highsmith, Hood, Hyman, Ing, Jones, of Washington, Laflin, Lee, Logan, Mayo, Moore, Morton, Murphy, Nance, Patrick, Parks, Petree, Pierson, Ragland, Renfrow, Rich, Robbins, Rodman, Smith, Stilwell, Sweet, Taylor, Teague, Tourgee, Tucker, Watts, Welker, Williams, of Wake, Williamson.

The motion to insert was then pronounced by the President to be in order.

Mr. Cowles' amendment was lost.

The question recurring upon Mr. McDonald's amendment, it was lost. Mr. McDonald alone voting in the affirmtive. "Grand gloomy and pekooliar," the "diligit" from Chatham, sat stern and immovable while Joseph William put him down "in de archives of gravity."

The original section was then adopted.

Section 27 was read. It provides for the election of judges and the term of office.

Hayes, (nigger,) of Halifax, said he was not ready to act upon so important a question without further time.

Mr. Rodman said that the Convention had instructed the committee to report in favor of election by the people after a protracted debate and it had obeyed.

Mr. Heaton said that he voted for those instructions, but mature consideration had caused him to regret doing so, as to supreme court judges. Other delegates felt the same regrets.

Mr. Abbott made a similar statement.

Hood, nigger, was opposed to their election by the people. He favored appointment by the Governor and confirmation by the Senate.

Mr. Rodman demanded the previous question upon the amendment of Mr. Heaton, providing for the election of the Judges of the Supreme Court by the Legislature. The call was sustained and the vote resulted as follows:

AYES—Messrs. Aydlott, Baker, Benbow, Bradley, Cherry, Dowd, Ellis, Fisher, Forkner, George, Graham, of Orange, Harris, of Franklin, Hay, Hayes, of Halifax, Heaton, Hobbs, Hodnett, Hollowell, Hyman, Jones, of Caldwell, Jones, of Washington, King, of Lincoln, King, of Lenoir, Laflin, Legg, Lennon, Long, Marler, McCubbins, Morton, Nance, Nicholson, Parker, Stilwell, Sweet, Williams, of Sampson.

NOES—Messrs. Abbott, Ashley, Blume, Bryan, Carey, Carter, Candler, Chillson, Dickey, Duckworth, Eppes, Franklin, Fullings, Galloway, Garland, Glover, Graham, of Montgomery, Harris, of Wake, Hayes, of Robeson, Highsmith Hood Kinney, Logan, May, Mayo, McDonald of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, Mullican, Murphy, Parks, Petree, Peterson, Ray, Renfrow, Rhodes, Rich, Rodman, Rose, Smith, Taylor, Teague, Tourgee, Trogden, Tucker, Turner, Watts, Welker, Williams, of Wake, Williamson.

The section as reported was then adopted.

Manager Cowles announced the omission of the night's performance in order that his "animiles" might go into training for the grand zoological exhibition to take place in the city today, in which many of his rarest specimens have been engaged to take parts.

OUR NOON DISPATCHES.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.

The reception at the White House last night was remarkable for the unusual crowd, for the absence of Radical officials and the presence of Foreign representatives.

Dispatches continue to come, encouraging both parties.

The Radicals in several localities have fired from fifty to one hundred guns in honor of the House resolution, impeaching the President.

Cable Dispatches.

PARIS, Feb. 25.

In the Corps Legislatiff, Havin, the editor of the "Seicle," persisted in reading a document upon which the President declared the sitting closed. The Government members withdrew. The Liberals were expelled, and the gas extinguished.

Gen. Grant's Opinion of the Army.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.

A special dispatch sent northward states that General Grant, in a conversation with Senator Wilson, said that the officers of the army are a unit in support of Congress. Not more than a dozen out of two thousand five hundred would obey an order from the President unless it came through him. On reading a dispatch from Gen. Geo. H. Thomas, declining the Brev't. Generalship. Grant remarked: that is what I expected from Thomas. He is a good soldier.

OUR MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.

SENATE—Mr. Sumner read the Harvey dispatches, and how they came confidentially into his possession.

At noon the Clerk of the House appeared and announced the passage of the impeachment resolutions.

The Harvey dispatches were loosely discussed. Several partizan papers, sustaining impeachment, were sent to the Clerk to be read. Mr. Hendricks objected, and on vote, the Senate refused to hear them.

A bill bridging the Mississippi River at Madison county, Illinois, was introduced.

A number of members of the House entered the Senate and took seats. Afterwards Messrs. Stevens and Bingham, committee, entered.

Mr. Stevens said: Mr. President, in obedience to the order of the House of Representatives, we appear before you, and in the name of the House of Representatives and of all the people of the United States, do impeach the President of the United States for high crimes and misdemeanors in office; and we further inform the Senate that the House of Representatives will, in due time, exhibit particular articles of impeachment against him and make good the same; and in their name we demand that the Senate take order for the appearance of said Andrew Johnson to answer the said impeachment.

Mr. Wade said: The Senate will take order in the premises.

Messrs. Howard, Trumbull, Morton, Conkling, Edmunds, Pomeroy and Johnson were appointed a special committee to examine the impeachment articles and report proceedings.

The bill providing that a majority of the votes cast, in any election upon a constitution under the reconstruction acts, shall confirm said constitution, and allowing voters to vote anywhere in the State after ten days' residence, on certificate of registration, affidavit, or other satisfactory evidence of having been registered, passed by a vote of 28 to 6. Adjourned.

HOUSE—A bill was introduced for a ship canal around Niagara Falls.

A resolution was adopted paying John Young Brown, Wm. I. Smith and Ely Simmons $2,500 each for expenses in contesting elections.

Messrs. Stevens and Bingham reported that they had performed the duty of informing the Senate of the passage of the impeachment resolutions.

Fifteen thousand dollars were appropriated for the poor of Washington, to be disbursed by the Freedman's Bureau.

The new Constitution of Alabama was presented. Referred to the Reconstruction Committee.

The Naval appropriation bill was resumed.

A new rule has been adopted, which prevents dilatory motion by less than one-third.

A resolution that the report of the impeachment articles be debated one day, and then voted on without debate or dilatory motions.

The Impeachment and Reconstruction Committees are allowed to sit during the sessions. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.

The administration abandons the quo warranto against Stanton as the proceedings against Gen. Thomas to-morrow will cover the whole ground.

The Cabinet met at noon. All present except Gen. Thomas.

Mr. Stanton still holds the war office, and has ordered subordinates to communicate nothing to reporters.

Gen. Grant and Judge Fisher were at the War Department to-day.

The excitement has entirely subsided, and the impression is growing that the Senate proceedings will be a tedious routine.

Warlike.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.

The Keystone Club, the largest Democratic organization in the State, has resolved itself into a military organization.

Florida Convention.

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 25.

The Convention passed the day in reading the Constitution. It was adopted as a whole about sundown. Forty members signed it; five refused. An ordinance passed withholding the pay of those who refused, and referring their claims to the next legislature. At half past ten P. M. the Convention adjourned, subject to the call of the President.

The Constitution adopted appears tolerably satisfactory to all classes, and the best feeling prevails among delegates and citizens.

The Republican Nominating Convention meets to-night. Most of the delegates leave for home to-morrow.

South Carolina Convention.

CHARLESTON, Feb. 25.

The convention to-day passed to 3rd reading the entire Executive article numbering 23 sections. There was considerable debate whether recognition of the Supreme Being should be required as a qualification. Decided affirmatively. Gen. Canby visited the body. He was received with applause. A recess was taken to introduce members. It is understood that a Republican caucus to-night will nominate either T. J. Robertson of Columbia or Gen. R. K. Scott for Governor.

Virginia Convention.

RICHMOND, Feb. 25.

In the Convention suffrage was debated all day.

John Minor Botts and Judge Rives are to address the Republicans here this week. A meeting for this purpose was called for to-night but was postponed on account of Botts's sickness.

STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The gentlemen composing the State Executive Committee, are respectfully requested to meet in this city on Friday, the 28th inst., at 11 o'clock. A full attendance is much desired.

By order of the

CHAIRMAN.

CITY AND STATE.

The Tourgee.

At a cross-road meeting of the "black and tan," in Guilford county, last week, the following resolution was adopted:

"That the delegates to the district convention are hereby instructed to present the name and express the claims of Capt. A. W. Tourgee as the first choice of the Republicans of Guilford as Representative from this District in the Congress of the United States."

If we are not greatly mistaken, the above-named Tourgee is the self-same fellow, who made a speech to the people of Lincolnton, sometime in the Spring of '67. In the course of his harangue, he stated that since he had been in the town of Lincoln, threatening letters had been placed under his door. The town council called on the Tourgee for the letters, in order that they might identify the handwriting and punish the authors; but the scalawag could not produce them. Of course, no such letters were ever written, thus developing one more phase in the "unmistakable loyalty" of North Carolina.

Of such persecuted saints do villains propose to make Congressmen.

Charlotte.

This little city is certainly one of the most enterprising and prosperous corporations in the Southern States. Her people are brimfull of energy and liberality, and whatever they undertake is always done and well done. Their industry and business sagacity is proverbial, and no effort is too great to be entered upon, if it promises to conduce to her welfare.

We have been led to these remarks by a statement made in the Democrat of that city of the amount paid out at that point for cotton. The Democrat says that between the 1st day of October, 1867, and February 1st, 1868, more than $1,500,000 were expended in the purchase of cotton alone, and that during the last week the sales foot up 970 bales, valued at about $70,000.

Is there any town in the South of twice the size of Charlotte that has done as large a business? We believe not. Her future will be bright, indeed, if the same spirit of fair dealing and generous emulation shall continue. May it be all that her citizens desire!

Queries.

Has any body seen in the Capitol Menagerie a meaner looking sneak than Renfrow, formerly deserter from the Confederate army,—now scallawag delegate from Halifax? We ask for information.

If Candler, formerly deserter from the Confederate army, now Konstitooshun maker from Buncombe, God bless you!—does not come up to Doestick's, "or any other man's" idea of Damphool, then we'd really like to know who does.

We pause for a reply.

The Radical State Convention.

The State Convention of the Radical party will assemble in this city to day. Some of the delegates have arrived we judge, from the crowds we see inspecting Dan Castello's old "show papers, and hanging around the windows of the candy stores. It is impossible to tell whether the convention will be numerously attended or not, as many of the delegates, doubtless brought their own "rations" and will take lodgings in the market and at the railroad depots.

Rising.

Less than three years ago, French, the big-footed delegate from Bladen, stood behind a sutler's wagon, in this city, dispensing cakes and pies at five cents apiece. He is now engaged at the capitol in making Constitooshuns at $8 per diem.

Oh! what a rise is that, my conntrymen!

The haste which the delegate from Beaufort exhibited in pushing those portions of the report of the Committee on the Judicial Department, which provide for the number of Judges on Supreme and Superior Court benches, to a vote yesterday, finds explanation in the fact that a caucus to nominate the candidates of the Radical party for the various State offices was held last night. Mr. Rodman knew the wires and pulled them dextrously. He had "an axe to grind" in the matter we suppose. To-day will show us.

If we are not mistaken ungenerous remarks were made concerning those members of the so-called Convention, who participated in the White Man's Convention, held in this city on the 5th and 6th instants. We wonder if comments from the same sources will be made upon the fact that the Kangaroos dispensed with the night session last evening that they might attend the caucus of their party? We shall see.

I call particular attention to BILLUP'S CENTREBOARD COTTON SCRAPER, and to BILLUP'S DIXIE PLOW. The first is warranted to be the best Scraper ever yet invented, and the Farmers are requested to test its merits in connection with any other kind. The Dixie Plow is freer from choking than any other yet made; will pass through the ground with less power, and do better work than any other kind. This is no vain boast. 'Tis easy to claim superiority; hence I ask a trial.

If Farmers are not satisfied, the money will be refunded.

EDITORS.

The NORTH CAROLINIAN is Democratic in its principles. It is unalterably opposed to Negro Suffrage, Military rule, and Reconstruction upon the basis of Congressional enactment.

Its Editors believe and teach that this is a

WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT,

FRAMED BY THE BRAINS, AND

WON BY THE BLOOD OF WHITE MEN,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF WHITE MEN,

AND THAT IT SHOULD BE

CONTROLLED BY WHITE MEN ONLY.

As there is but ONE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION professing these sentiments and committed to their maintenance, the NORTH CAROLINIAN will steadily advocate the abandonment of all other party names and organizations, and yield a hearty co-operation with that organization—the NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA. READ THE STATEMENT BELOW, AND DESPAIR NOT.

WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE:

Dear Sir—My youngest daughter, aged five years, has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many Physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, most of them said there was no hope of cure.—During the last Spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well.

I am, sir,
Yours, with respect and gratitude,
W. W. BURNETT.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.

WILSON, N. C., Sept. 15, 1867.

DR. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir:—In 1862 my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician—Dr. A. D. Moore. After taking it a few weeks, my son became and remains entirely well.

Yours truly,
J. B. DANIEL.

I know of several others in this County, cured through the use of the Rosadalis, and it can be found in nearly every house in my neighborhood, and they all praise it as a great medicine.

40 YEARS.

DEEMS' Southern Hepatic Pills, are made and sold by the discoverer, that old and well-tried remedy for all diseases caused by DISEASED LIVER, which is attended with all the symptoms of Consumptions. In 1825 the Discoverer was reduced to a mere skeleton, and was pronounced by three of the most skillful physicians of one of our largest cities, to be in an advanced stage of Consumption, and beyond cure. He then begs nto try experiments on himself, and after many efforts discovered (by the help of an Indian) the remedy which wrought in him a perfect cure. He is now in the 78th year of his age, and at this advanced stage of l fe retains an excellent constitution. In 32 years itinerating in the ministry, he has seen more than a thousand persons, who were given up to die of Consumption as beyond cure, dragging out a miserable existence, not knowing what ailed them, they were cured by these Hepatic Pills, and afterwards enjoyed the most perfect health.

There is in these Pills a peculiar combination with an article which has probably never before been used as a medicine. They are highly strengthening, and mild in their action on the bowels. In the preparation of these very superior and excellent Pills, no cost or trouble is spared to insure the greatest possible degree of perfection, in point of utility, excellence and comfort; the advantage in these Pills, therefore, is that a cure must be radical and complete, without the necessity of incorporating such drugs into our Pills as to break down the system in one part to remove the disease in another, and leave the patient to groan under worse diseases than heretofore. Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been used so extensively, they need no recommendation, their merits are so well known by their results, which has given them a reputation that has brought them into great demand. They are therefore destined to be, at no distant day, the only remedy recognized and used by the people where billious diseases are so prevalent.

They can be sent to any point in the United States by mail or express.

Price:—25 cents per box, $2 50 per doz. By the gross, $18. The cash must either accompany the order for the Medicine, or it will be sent C. O. D. Address

In the Twilight.

BY J. E. LOWELL.

Men say the sullen instrument
That from the Master's bow,
With pangs of joy or woe,
Peels music's soul through every fibre sent,
Whispers the ravished strings
More than he knew or meant.
Old summers in its memory glow;
The secrets of the wind it sings;
It hears the April-loosened springs,
And mixes with its mood
All it learned when it stood
In the murmurous pine-wood
Long ago!

The magical moonlight then
Steeped every bough and cone;
The roar of the brook in the glen
Came dim from the distance blown:
The wind through its glooms sang low,
And it swayed to and fro,
Full of dreams, as it stood
In the wonderful wood
Long ago!

O, my life, have we not had seasons
That only said live and rejoice?
That asked not for causes and reasons,
But made us all feeling and voice?
When we went with the winds in their blowing.
When nature and we were peers,
And our days seemed to share in the flowing
Of the inexhaustible years?
Have we not from the earth drawn juices
Too fine for earth's sordid uses?
Have I heard, have I seen,
All I feel and I know?
Doth my heart overween?
Or could it have been
Long ago?

Sometimes a breath floats by me,
An odor from dream-land sent,
That makes the ghost seem nigh me
Of a splendor that came and went—
Of a life lived somewhere, I know not
In what diviner sphere—
Of memories that stay not and go not,
Like music heard once by an ear
That cannot forget or reclaim it,—
A something so shy, it would shame it,
To make it a show,
A something too vague, could I name it,
For others to know,
As if I had lived it or dreamed it,
As if I had acted or schemed it,
Long ago!

And yet, could I live it over,
This life that stirs in my brain,
Could I be both maiden and lover,
Moon and tide, bee and clover,
As I seem to have been, once again—
Could I but speak it and show it,
This pleasure more sharp than pain,
That baffles and lures me so,—
The world should not lack a poet,
Such as it had in the ages glad
Long ago!

Puritan Economy.

The New York correspondent of the Mobile Register tells the following:

A short time ago a New Englander was lying on his death bed in this city, and his wife, a woman with a splendid faculty for taking care of money, was with him. The man had not been shaved for several days, and a barber was sent for to exercise his art on the invalid's face. The poor man was sinking rapidly, and when the barber arrived he was nearly gone.

As soon as the knight of the razor made his appearance, the woman addressed him with:

"How much do you charge?"

The barber looked at the man and saw that he was near death, and then said in a low tone to the woman:

"I sharge von dollar to shave him now, but I sharge five dollars ven he be dead."

The stricken wife turned to the bed and addressed her dying husband:

"Ephraim, he says he'll shave you for a dollar, but if he waits till you're dead he'll charge five dollars."

The sick man moved but made no reply, and the woman looked from him to the barber and from the barber back to the sick man several times, and then bending over her husband she raised her voice and repeated:

"Ephraim, he says he'll shave you now for a dollar, but he'll charge five when you're dead. Don't you think you'd better be shaved now?"

Ephraim turned his head weakly, opened his glassy eyes upon his wife, and murmured:

"Wife, I'm very sick."

His head fell back, and he was dead; and his wife, poor woman, had to pay the barber five dollars for a post mortem shave.

Popular Fallacies.

That you can receive one dollar a day, spend two and get rich.

That the man that can't pay for his breakfast, can raise the money to get into a circus.

That to do a man one favor, and then refuse him another, won't make him twice as mad as if you had refused him the first. There is no greater truth than this.

That when you buy on credit, knowing very well you will not pay, it is not stealing.

That the next year's taxes will be lighter.

That every other man is to die except you.

That if you have a good cause in love, war or law, pitch in, you are bound to win.

That when you buy a horse, he will be certain to turn out as represented.

That if you always say what you think, you will win the regard of the entire community.

The reaction so manifest in this State last fall has been followed by new and marked successes and great Democratic gains in the recent town elections. Revolutions never go backward. These successes are more than mere straws: they are almost positive indications that the State will give a Democratic majority of one hundred thousand next November instead of the fifty thousand generally conceded; and such cheering news from different sections of the State will stimulate the Conservatives and Democrats of New Hampshire to wipe out the small Radical majority of last year, and the Democracy of Connecticut to give English a majority which will turn the hundreds of last spring into thousands next April. —N. Y. World.

The Oswego Palladium gives this statement of a juror apropos of a a recent trial for felony:

"'I am glad I was not put upon that jury, I had not read the newspaper accounts of the transaction; I had not made up my mind as to the guilt or innocence of the accused; but when I saw the prisoner, and looked into his forbidding face, I made up my mind that if he didn't commit the deed charged, he was capable of it. Why, he has the worst face I ever saw on a man. As he sat there, right behind Mr. ——, I couldn't help the conviction that he was a villain.' The force of these remarks will be appreciated when we say that it was not Connor, but the editor of this paper who sat 'right behind Mr. ——.'"

It is now eighty years since Alexander Hamilton foretold, as the crisis of liberty, when the judiciary "should be in jeopardy of being overpowered, awed, or influenced by its co-ordinate branches."

A western editor remarks that he is glad to receive marriage notices, but requests that they be sent soon after the ceremony and before the divorce is applied for. He has had several notices spoiled in this way.

LATEST NEWS TO THE FARMERS OF North Carolina.
Your attention is called to my large stock of Agricultural Implements, Iron Steel, &c., &c.
Corn and Cotton Planters, Corn Shellers, Hay, Shuck and Corn Stalk Cutters, Fan Mills, Plows, of every kind, Harrows and Cultivators, Spades, Shovels Forks, Brier Hooks, Iron Axles, Springs, Cart & Wagon Boxes, &c.
I call particular attention to BILLUP'S CENTREBOARD COTTON SCRAPER, and to BILLUP'S DIXIE PLOW. The first is warranted to be the best Scraper ever yet invented, and the Farmers are requested to test its merits in connection with any other kind. The Dixie Plow is freer from choking than any other yet made; will pass through the ground with less power, and do better work than any other kind. This is no vain boast. 'Tis easy to claim superiority; hence I ask a trial.
If Farmers are not satisfied, the money will be refunded.
